

CORNELL DON CHAIRS HOSPITALITY SCHOOL

A CORNELL University professor has been named the first chairman of the Cornell-Nanyang Institute of Hospitality Management.

Dr Sheryl E. Kimes, a professor in operations management, will be based here for three months a year for the next five years.

She will also be on the institute's joint academic board and research council.

The Singapore Tourism Board-endowed chair will teach master's courses, conduct research and work with Asian hospitality professionals.